Report on visit to Center of Excellence lab at VJTI

We visited the Centre of Excellence (CoE) lab at Veermata Jijabai Technological Institute (VJTI), vadala. Under the Margdarshan scheme of University of Mumbai with Prof.Sunita Jadhav on 19th July 2017. We were welcomed by Prof.Falle sir who is the head of Margadarshan scheme and incharge of COE lab. He gave us brief idea about VJTI college and COE lab. After this introduction, Prof.Faruk briefed all of us about on which areas the students of VJTI are working on the projects and new technologies. We then visited their labs where they are working on different projects which are innovative. There we met the students who are working on different areas of reasearch and these students are from M.tech and B.E persuing students working along with the PhD persuing students from the college itself. These students work in the CoE lab after their college hours and work on the areas of their interests. Their Lab of CoE is well equipped for their students to work. Some of these students briefed us about different types of project on which they are working such as Renewable energy integration, Battery storage and management systems, Condition monitoring of rotating devices , Cyber security, Big data , Data analytics,etc. We were briefed about all the competed projects and ongoing projects at the lab of COE. This visit was very informative for me as I came to know about the different areas and how to start a project on new concepts.

About VJTI

The Veermata Jijabai Technological Institute was established in 1887. It started with only two departments, namely the Sir J. J. School of Mechanical Engineering and the Rippon Textile School. In 1913, the Institute was recognized by the Government of Bombay as the Central Technological Institute, Bombay Province. In addition to other departments, a department of Sanitary Engineering and Plumbing was added in 1923. The department started Uleniate in Civil & Sanitary Engineering programme.

The Institute was granted financial and academic autonomy from June 21, 2004. As a result, the autonomous VJTI has implemented the revised syllabus for the students in June 2004 at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels by implementing much valued credit system. The revised scheme of examinations, which follows a grading system and letter grade point system has been implemented. An important part of curriculum is the practically oriented project at the final year of graduation and the dissertations offered by the postgraduate students, as also the in-plant training undergone by the Third Year Diploma students.

The Institute is reputed for excellent training in Engineering and Technology at Diploma, Degree, Post Graduate levels and Research. Presently VJTI offers B. Tech programmes in nine core disciplines of engineering, 17 M. Tech. programmes, M.C.A. and Ph.D. programmes in various engineering disciplines. Since the time of inception, VJTI has been playing a very vital role in producing quality engineers, introducing new programmes, and electives in emerging areas. In 1998, the Institute was renamed from its old name Victoria Jubilee Technological Institute to its present name Veermata Jijabai Technological Institute. The Institute is affiliated to University of Mumbai. It was one of the fourteen institutes selected by the Central Government for further development with grant-in-aid from the Centre under Technical Education Quality Improvement Programme (TEQIP-I, TEQIP-II and TEQIP-III). In 2004, VJTI received administrative, academic, financial and managerial autonomy.

About Mechanical Engineering Department
Established in 1887, the department of Mechanical Engineering remains among the premier departments of VJTI. It has had a long and illustrious history and offers courses at the graduate and postgraduate levels. The department is recognized for doctoral research by the University of Mumbai. The department has kept pace with the rapid development of computer aided methods of design and manufacture with state of the art robotics and CAD/CAM facilities.

The laboratories in the department are recognized in a number of areas as testing facilities. The department also has workshops for training in smithy, carpentry, welding and machine tools.

About the Programme

Nowadays most of the academic institutions having AICTE approved Mechanical Engineering branch, to be acquainted with the advances in machine design this course is useful.

This special course will cover the advance study in the various applications including Machine Design, Vibration, Bearings, Gear and Fault Diagnosis.

Objective

Dear Sir/Ma'am,

We wanted to connect with Structural Engineering Department of VJTI for one of our Startup; Bamboo Reinforcement. It aims to introduce bamboo as a reinforcement for replacing steel in RCC construction. The product has been developed by the final year Civil Engineering students of Vishwaniketan college (ViMeet), who have been working on their product from past six months and is being guided by Dr. Shilpa Kewate, H.O.D of Civil Dept.

Their product has shown great potential as it has been recognised at University, State and National level through Avishkar Research, State Level Research Convention, NICMAR Pune respectively.

In order to launch, they want to perform the following tests at Structural Engineering Department laboratories (Strength of material lab and material testing lab)

1. Abrasion test
2. Flexure test
3. Compression test

Please let us know how we can go ahead. We would be extremely grateful for your support!
